PREFACE

First of all the writer would like to express my gratitude to Allah SWT The All Mighty because of Him the writer could successfully finish my undergraduate thesis and fully greeting to our prophet Muhammad SAW who has brought us from darkness into the lightening age. Perhaps it is not too superlative for regarding that an undergraduate thesis is one of the results of our hard work for several years. The writer really believes that all of us have already worked as best as we could. An undergraduate thesis is more than only a thick paper; it records and reflects our journeys since the first time we became a college students. This undergraduate thesis is full of memories, stories, and knowledge.

In order to illuminate our mind about the shift in the United States foreign policy direction, the writer choose to scrutinize about the neoconservative group in the United States, who they really are, how big is their influence on the United States foreign policy decision making process and what is the impact. Apparently, every phenomenon related to America always become interesting issues in the international relation to explore.

Neoconservative itself became a unique phenomenon in the United States political realm, whether it is come from its figureheads features or come from their policies and visions of the international affairs. However, America could always touch our sense of interest and curiosity to discuss and explored in deep analysis. By this research we could conclude that America and America's government is completely different over one to another so as it can help us in seeing any current issues about the United States rationally, as the international relation students.

The writer believes that this undergraduate thesis is less than perfect, therefore constructive criticism is needed.

In this occasion the writer would also like to say greatly thankfulness to:
