PREFACE

This undergraduate thesis tried to discuss about the Dynamic of negotiation in the Final Peace Agreement (FPA) 1996, between the Government Republic of the Philippines (GRP) and the Moro National Liberation Front (MNLF). Where actually, the FPA 1996 was not yet ripe or ready to be signed, but on the contrary, it was signed. The question was how. Based on the theory used, why then the GRP and the MNLF agreed to conduct negotiation was because both the main actors of the conflict, Nur Misuari (MNLF) and President Ramos (the GRP) at that time, were experiencing declines and degradations politically and economically. So by that, beside beneficial, it seems that there is no other way out to save their each other condition and position except for having negotiations. Other than that, this undergraduate thesis is also written in order to fulfill one of the requirements of bachelor degree program in International Relations Department, Social Political Science Faculty of Muhammadiyah University Yogyakarta
