

ABSTRAK

Premarital sexual behavior is begin to spread among a social life. This thing make a various effect, for examples ; pregnancy in youth, abortion, sexually transmitted disease, drop out from school in specially for girls. There is a significant connection between youth sexual behavior with their education and what they trust.

This research is a description research use survey method and description analyze with coefficient contingential, level of significant 0.10. An independence variable consist of youth reproduction education then the dependence variable consist of premarital sexual behavior. The researcher take 50 samples from youth between 17 – 21 years old in age limit. The research achievement show there is a mutually connection between youth reproduction education with premarital sexual behavior.

Keyword : Reproduction education, premarital sexual behavior