

Abstract

Japan foreign policy towards India is affected by domestic policy and international environment. Japan strengthening their relations with India in economic fields in 2012, who's not even their strategic partner before. They signing new cooperation and set high investment to India. Japanese companies also rising a number to enter India to builds a factory and ready to competing in this market.

The fact that India has a lot of potential that attract Japanese government to strengthen their cooperation. Became one of strategic partnership, would make India receives more investment and trade export from Japan. It is an effort from Japanese government to increase the economic stagnancy that still continuing over two decade.

Keywords: Japan Foreign Policy, Japan-India Economic Corporation, Japan-India Strategic Partnership, Trade, Special Strategic and Global Partnership, India's Potential.