Acknowledgement

All praise is due to Allah the beneficent and the merciful, who has given grace, strength, and ease to the researcher to complete the thesis with the title “The Use of Reward and Punishment in Increasing Students’ Interests in Learning English. This thesis is as a requirement in accomplishing S-1 degree at English Education Department at Muhammadiyah University of Yogyakarta. I want to express my gratitude and appreciation to all of them who always supporting me in this thesis. First, the deepest appreciation goes to my beloved parents, my mother for the endless love, pray, and support, and my father that has been in a peaceful place right now. Thank you to Miss Eko Purwanti, S. Pd., M. Hum., Ph. D, as the thesis supervisor, who is always willing to provide time, guidance, support, and understanding of the difficulties I faced while writing my thesis. I would like to thank Mr. Jati Suryanto, S. Pd., M. Hum., as the first examiner who has provided many suggestions for improving my thesis. I would also like thank to people around me. My best friend Faizah and Ulin for the reminder every time in order to remind me to keep going since day one in college. My best friend Devita, Degreta, Risti, Amel, Ailsa, Diva, Ulep, and other who always by my side, who always cheers me up when I'm tired of working on my thesis, who always listens to me. The main thing is that I would like to thank myself for struggling alone to complete this thesis in conditions that I know this time was hard for me. I want to thank me for believing me, for doing all these hard works, for never quitting and no days off, I want to thank me for the pain this last one year.
