PREFACE

Everything I do in this world of course all I want is to get ALLAH's sincerity. And what I can do right now to get it is finishing my undergraduate thesis. For nearly 4 years, Finally I did it and I can complete my Degree of Sarjana Ilmu Politik (S.IP) from Department of International Relations, Faculty of Social and Political Science in University of Muhammadiyah Yogyakarta.

Therefore, I hope this thesis can be the one of reference for the student of International Relations. My undergraduate thesis is "NATO Military Interventions in Libya 2012". In this thesis, it will give a brief explanation and data about the role of NATO in the Conflict of Libya 2011 and to answering the question Why did NATO commit do military interventions in Libya 2012?. In this case will elaborate that the existence of NATO is interesting to analyze and discussed. NATO was no longer as collective defense as like in the Cold War era but, nowadays this organization already provided as collective security. Because in the Post Cold War era, NATO has continued its existence and re-evaluate its international role by enlarge its membership and roles to handle the issues of asymmetric threat.

The role of power and influence of NATO military operations to handle issues of asymmetric threats have evolved the attention of international community. In addition, it can be proven by the expansion of NATO's role in East Europe (Bosnia) to MENA. However, by using Realist theory and Concept of Intervention, the fact shows if there is a constructive idea of structure communication and cooperation among member states of NATO on a continuing basis as they deal with common needs. Furthermore, the intervention in Libya by Western nations through NATO is quite clearly selective for common purpose/interest.

I would like to apologize if there are many mistakes in the process of completing this thesis.

Sincerely,

Nur Hilal Safitri
